MATSONIA BRINGS RECORD CARGO TO ISLANDS

Bringing the largest cargo ever coming to Honolulu direct from San Francisco in any Matson steamer, the Matsonia, Capt. Charles Peterson, docked about 8 o'clock this morning at Pier 15, with 7064 tons of freight in her hold and 129 cabin passengers lining her decks.

In addition to the record-breaking freight cargo the Matsonia brought 46 automobiles, of which 20 are for Honolulu and 14 for Hilo. Several had to be left behind on the dock at San Francisco, although all the freight offering was cleaned up. The Matsonia's incoming freight, while a new record for Honolulu, is small compared to that taken on her last outward trip from this port, when it was close to 10,000 tons.

Last year the Matsonia brought 6200 to 6500 tons from San Francisco regularly each trip, but today's incoming freight sets a new record. It is believed to be also a record for freight coming here direct from San Francisco on steamers of any line, although American-Hawaiian steamers have recently brought big cargoes from the Northwest, these including, however, much New York cargo.

Included in today's big cargo are 1025 tons of feed for Honolulu and Hilo, 314 tons of hay, 1053 tons of cement and 665 tons of fertilizer. This leaves 4906 tons of general freight on board, enough to fill nearly 40 freight cars. There are 800 bills of lading accompanying the cargo. Freight for Honolulu was 5625 tons and for Hilo 1439.

Some of the Matsonia's passengers did not enjoy life at all the first two days out. A stiff breeze was run into immediately after leaving San Francisco. Strong westerly winds and a rough sea, according to Capt. Peterson, laid many of the passengers low Thursday and Friday, but after Friday the steamer ran into a calm, and delightful weather was enjoyed on the remainder of the voyage.

Steaming time from San Francisco was 5 days, 19 hours and 42 minutes. Steerage passengers coming over were 13. Chief Steward "Cy" Wilmarth said there were two newly-married couples aboard, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bishop of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown of Denver. Mr. Brown is a stepson of Harold L. Morris, the noted angler and game fisherman now visiting here.

A number of Honoluluans and former residents returned.

ASANO'S SON TO HEAD T. K. K. OFFICE STAFF AT 'FRISCO BRANCH

Special Cable to Hawaii Shipno. TOKIO, Japan, March 28.—R. Asano, a son of President Asano, of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha Steamship Company, has been appointed head of the branch office in San Francisco. S. Togo, former captain of the Tenyo, has been made inspector of freight shipments for the company in the same office. Togo will pass through Honolulu on the Shinyo Maru early in April. Asano probably coming on the next steamer after that time.

A. J. WEST SAILS 22,000 MILES TO NEW YORK

Turtles Are Only Food Off the Coast of Mexico; Filipinos Get Sublimely "Stewed"

With its Filipino crew lying "stewed" in the forecastle singing something about a bamboo tree, this happy state having been attained from sun given them to withstand the rigors of Atlantic winter weather, the schooner A. J. West arrived at New York from Manila a few weeks ago, according to the New York World.

The West left Honolulu August 26, after repairing a few of the many leaky spots in her hull. She arrived here August 8, with several sails torn to shreds and the wash of the seas the scuppers could not carry off soaked into the hold.

Sailed 22,292 Miles to Go 14,520.

Capt. Chapman figured that he sailed the ship for the 22,292 miles, in covering the 4900 miles from Manila to Honolulu; 8912 miles to go from Honolulu to Balboa, which is 4220 miles on the chart, and 3000 miles to cover the steamer course of 2500 miles from Colon to New York, all told, 22,292 miles to make 14,520.

After leaving Honolulu last August, the West ran into the doldrums for 37 days after beating up to Socorro Island, off the west coast of Mexico.

The kicker was resorted to again, but it coughed and tussled, so that only 300 miles were covered during those 37 days. Then south of Socorro another storm was encountered.

All the provisions except rice were spoiled and for several weeks a small boat was used to catch green turtles. The first was hatched. Then it was discovered that the turtles were asleep on the surface, so the others were simply turned on their backs and lifted into the boat.

Turtle Soup Thrice Daily.

This is where Charley, who won't be two years old until July 8, came in handy. He had learned to walk—on shipboard—and he and his little brother, Ira, kept a close watch for turtles. A chair such as a sword fisherman uses was rigged up in the bow for Charley and when he saw a turtle he blew the bosun's whistle, while Ira shouted, "Turtle ahoy, pop!" Seven turtles were caught at one time and Ira almost fell overboard in the excitement. All were tired of turtle soup and turtle steak and turtle hash except the youngsters, who cried for more turtles most of the way to New York.

Couldn't Stand up.

Balboa was reached January 1. The West had to be drydocked at Colon for repairs and her cargo of mahogany unloaded. There all hands went ashore and they had been at sea so long they staggered all over the place. Charley could not stand up ashore.

The nine Filipinos were fine sailors until three days before the West arrived at New York. Then they had their first taste of cold weather. But Capt. Chapman, at Colon, had laid in a supply of gin. Even with that under their belts they could keep only 10-minute watches for two days. By the third morning the gin had produced such a wonderful effect that they kept no watches.

HARBOR NOTES

Saturday the Matson freighter Hilo steamed from Seattle for Honolulu.

The Matson liner Matsonia brought 187 bags of mail to Honolulu from San Francisco this morning.

The Oceanic liner Sierra from this port March 21, arrived at San Francisco at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

The Matson steamer Manoa returned at 8 o'clock last night from Kahului and sailed at noon today from Pier 16 for San Francisco.

Due today or tomorrow from San Francisco is the T. K. South American liner Selyo Maru. She will sail from here to Yokohama direct.

At 7 o'clock Sunday night the Matson steamer Euterpe sailed from Hilo for San Francisco, according to the Mauna Kea's trip report today.

Advises received by the Inter-Island are that the American steamer Yucatan will be here April 4 for bunker coal, probably from San Francisco.

Due about April 10 from Manila is the transport Logan, from Manila March 21. She will sail for San Francisco on the day she arrives here.

Bringing a cargo of coal from Muroran for the Inter-Island, the Japanese steamer Mandan Maru is expected to arrive Friday or Saturday.

A large four-masted bark was passed by the Matson steamer Manoa yesterday, standing to toward Kahului as the Manoa was going out from that port.

There were three bidders yesterday afternoon when bids were opened at the custom-house for painting and repairing the roof of the Marine Hospital, public health service.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon the American-Hawaiian steamer Mexican is due to sail from Hilo for San Francisco with 13,700 tons of island sugar for transshipment by rail to eastern refineries.

The quartermaster's office expects the transport Thomas to arrive about April 4 from the Philippines. She left Nagasaki March 21. The Thomas will arrive in the morning and sail the afternoon of April 4.

On her last trip to San Francisco from this port, a stowaway named Ed McCarthy was found on board the U. S. army transport Sheridan. He said he deserted here from the City of Puebla because the coffee was always cold.

Freight brought in this morning by the Mauna Kea included an auto, 11 cords of wood, five crates of vegetables, 18 bags of cabbage, 63 bundles of shooks, 88 bundles of hides, 171 parcels of sundries and 50 bales of bags.

Fears for the safety of the American steamer Rio Pasig of Manila, which was here last fall, are felt. She left Vladivostok for Puget Sound, but is many days overdue. The Rio Pasig is the only deep-sea steamer in the world manned by Filipino officers and crew.

While the T. K. K. South American steamer Selyo Maru, expected late today or tomorrow from San Francisco, was steaming from Valparaiso to the California port, a baby boy was born to Mrs. Philip Lang, travelling on the steamer with her husband, who is an American citizen. The youngster is a full-blooded Yankee, although born on a Japanese ship at sea.

Sugar awaiting shipment on Hawaii is reported by Purser Pete Phillips of the Mauna Kea to be: Olua, 23,000 bags; Waiakoa, 10,000; Hawaii Mill, 13,000; Wainaku, 4000; Onomea, 11,568; Pepeekeo, 3500; Honoumu, 8500; Hakalau, 9190; Laupahoehoe, 10,554;

Bringing a large number of passengers, including 61 cabin, four way-cabin and 91 deck, the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Kea arrived from Hilo and way ports at 7:09 this morning. She brought back the Hawaii Tours Company personally-conducted excursion. Everyone going was delighted with the trip, reporting fine weather every day and Kilanea volcano especially active.

Due to arrive Sunday, probably in the morning, from San Francisco, is the American-Hawaiian steamer Texan, with 1000 tons of New York cargo, brought to San Francisco on the Honolulu via Magellan, and trans-shipped. The Texan will carry 13,500 tons of island sugar back to San Francisco. She is believed by the local agents to have no other freight than her New York cargo for Honolulu.

Sailing at 4 yesterday afternoon for San Francisco, the Oceanic steamer Sonoma took one passenger and 90 tons of freight from Honolulu. Outgoing freight included 90 cases of honey, 60 bags of coffee and 20 cases of canned pine for Auckland; 400 cases of canned pine for Wellington, N. Z.; 6 cases of canned pine for Dunedin, N. Z., and 100 cases of bottled beer for Noumea, New Caledonia.

Three days after he reached San Francisco in the Oceanic steamer Sonoma, Capt. Creelman, the veteran sea captain, who passed the winter visiting in Honolulu, died, according to word brought here yesterday by Capt. J. D. Trask of the Sonoma. Capt. Creelman was a great friend of Capt. J. R. Macaulay, territorial pilot at this port. Capt. Creelman was second mate on the ship which brought the late J. B. Atherton to Honolulu many years ago.

Fire caused damage estimated at $5,000 to the munitions plant of the General Electric Co., at Schenectady, N. Y.
